LET THEM IN.

Every dull day or savage outbreak of our capricious climate gives added force to the arguments which should induce the Board of Education to throw open the school gates and let the children in.

Is there any doubt that it is detrimental to boys and girls of tender years to be kept out in the rain or snow or even exposed for some time to the biting cold of a Winter day? The street is a poor recreation ground and a bad training school for innocent childhoo !.

Many a parent heaves a sigh of relief as the children start for school. He feels they will be protected and that they will be watched over and guarded by a vigilance only second to his own. This trust on the part of the parents is sadly abused when the little ones are left unprotected in the
